

Code of Ethics for Tarot Card Readings

The Minimum Standards prescribed by the ABTC

- A Tarot card reading is meant to be a positive, supportive experience.
- A Tarot card reading looks at the energies that are currently surrounding the client and at the various possible outcomes if action is not taken.
- All clients shall receive total confidentiality.
- The client will be advised to seek advice from professionals on financial, psychological, medical or legal matters.
- The client will be encouraged to make their own decisions.
- The client's religious beliefs and spiritual path are respected.
- The intention of the Tarot reading is that it be for the highest good of the client. The client will receive the reader's full attention and will be encouraged to participate in the reading process.
- The Tarot reader shall not ask the client to making any additional purchase of any kind.
- The Tarot reader has the right to choose not to read for a prospective client if he / she is not comfortable doing so.

My Additions

- I believe that one's 'future' can be positively changed based on proactive action taken by the individual and I shall therefore advise the client accordingly.
 - I shall not tackle readings surrounding issues of Physical Death, Black Magic etc.
 - No intuitive process of divination is 100% accurate. I will therefore not claim accordingly.
 - I conduct my readings only before sunset.

What is this?

The Code of Ethics for Tarot card readings are the representations of the minimum standards that the American Board for Tarot Certification expects out of its certified readers, committee members, and Board members.

All individual Tarot card readers are therefore encouraged to develop their own Code of Ethics, while including these minimum points.
